

BASEBALL NATIONALS WIN THIRD BOXING JOHNSON A QUITTER BOWLING MATCHES ON THE LOCAL ALLEYS

SWAMP TEXAS TEAM

Our Nationals Down Galveston by Heavy Hitting.

SCORE IS ONLY 14 TO 1

Gray and Groom on the Piling Line for Three Innings Each—Walter Johnson Allows No Hits—Seventeen Hits for Cantillon's Crew—With the Yarnigans in Waco.

Special to The Washington Herald.
Galveston, Tex., March 16.—"What have we here," the fans well may cry when they read to-morrow that Washington has played its third exhibition game of the spring, and not only did not lose said game, but won it by 14 to 1. It is a record that has been the custom of the team to get the losing habit in the vernal practice game, and retain it with jewel-like consistency for the rest of the year. But times change, and even the Washington baseball club may change. There is hope.

Washington's wallowing of Galveston yesterday was not a mistake. It is true that nine runs were made off the third and last pitcher, A. Johnson, in two innings, but the work throughout was good. A Johnson did not have enough pitching goods to warrant the renting of a time lock safe to hold them, but, at that, he was not so bad, and was merely experiencing the results of being up against a team that had a batting streak.

No Hits Off Johnson.
Walter Johnson pitched first for Washington, and allowed no hits or runs in three innings. "Dolly" Gray followed with a grant of two hits and no runs and no passes.

Groom pitched the last three innings, and was told not to exert himself. He was touched for three hits and an unearned run.

Conroy made two errors at third, more because of his anxiety than anything else, but the other men played well in every department. Their work was a highly creditable showing, not because they were against Texas leaguers, but because of actual achievements. It was the best early spring game Washington has played in five years.

Hits by Clymer and Freeman, an error by Bradley, and Ganley's daily sacrifice batted two runs in the third inning. Passes to Freeman and Milan, a double by McBride, a runner's choice by Blankenship, and a two-bagger by Gray got three runs in the sixth round.

Hits by Ganley, Unglaub, Conroy, McBride, and Blankenship, garnered four more tallies in the seventh.

Most Everybody Wallops Ball.
Hits by everybody, except Unglaub, McBride, and Groom—but McBride sacrificed—produced five runs in the eighth inning.

Galveston's only run was made off Groom. Corkhill opened the seventh inning by walking. Bell singled him to second, and he got third on McNary's pass. Brown fanned, but Badger's bounder went through Conroy, scoring Corkhill. Games will be played to-morrow, Thursday, and Friday, and Galveston promises to have an entirely new team in the field.

Hard Practice for Yarnigans.

Special to The Washington Herald.
Waco, Tex., March 16.—Tom Hughes and his division of the Nationals were out with the larks this morning, and down to hard work with the exception of Jimmy Collins, whose leg was hurt, as noted in yesterday's dispatches, and thought to be only slightly hurt, but developed this morning into a bad bruise. A physician painted it with iodine, and put Jimmy in bed with strict orders to rest up for a few days.

Bill Rapp, the youngster whose hand was hurt, is getting along finely, and will be able to be up and out in two or three days. He is game and wants all the work he can get now, but Hughes has a check rein on him, and will only let him practice enough to keep in form and not hurt his hand again.

The boys were led through the regular paces this morning of batting, bunting, base running, sliding, and fielding, and when they had enough, before noon, Hughes set the pace for several trots around the entire park, then a trot to the hotel which is about six blocks from the park.

A good bath and rub down followed, then dinner.

As soon as they had eaten, Hughes made them hike back to the park for two or three hours' practice on the same lines, after which they enjoyed the lot of spectators at a game between the local Texas league team and Baylor University.

Nationals Are Good Rooters.

From the rooting of the Nationals it shows that they are also human and enjoy a game of ball as much as any one else, even if they don't participate in it. To-morrow Hughes will have his men out early, as the New York Giants are scheduled for a game here with the local Texas leaguers, and Hughes is determined to get his men in first class condition by ordering a lot of practice.

COAST FOR DELEHANTY.

Nationals' Second Baseman Threatens to Join Outlaws.

Special to The Washington Herald.
Cleveland, Ohio, March 16.—"You can say for me that it is almost practically clinched that I will go to the Coast to play in the California State League."

Such was the remarks made this evening by Jim Delehanty, who continued as follows:

"Cantillon and I have been wiring each other every day, but we are still crabbing and are as far apart as ever. It looks as if we would have done, and I guess I will get busy and fix things with Stockton. If I go Frank will probably go with me."

Frank Delehanty was sold by New York to Louisville, but has refused to report.

ELBERFELD DENIES RUMORS.

Says that He and Wild Conroy Are Best of Friends.

Special to The Washington Herald.
Lynchburg, Va., March 16.—Before leaving Lynchburg to return to Macon, where the New York Americans are in training, "Kid" Elberfeld stated that he was surprised at statements printed that he and Conroy, the former Yankee player, were on the outs last season.

Refuting the statement, Elberfeld said: "I have a friend in the world, I believe it is Conroy."

SPORTING SIDELIGHTS

By BILL BAILEY.

E Pluribus Unum—Erin Go Bragh.

Oh, you St. Patrick!

Our janitor has the green above the black to-day. Yep, dug out his old green Kelly from winter storage.

Messrs. Gray and Groom don't look so bad, eh?

We can hardly believe this dispatch from New York: "James J. Jeffries began his second week as a rejuvenated actor at Blau's sound night, and among the floral offerings was a spray of poison ivy from Jack Johnson."

Of course, Bill Bailey's friends could not forget him on such an occasion as the 17th. Listen to this bonnet:

Dear Bill:

St. Patrick was an honest man. I was a shame he had to die!

Bill Bailey, you're a live one.

And the question now is, Why?

Here's hoping you have a happy, sober St. Patrick's Day.

From your admirers,

"THE GLOOM DISPELLERS."

Evidently there is some question as to Bailey's right to be placed in the "live one" class. Et tu, Brute.

Business High School will hardly dare wear those orange trimmings in practice on McDevitt's field to-day.

Word was received yesterday that Clifton Byrd, the star quarter back of George Washington's football eleven last fall, now at Western Maryland, is sufficiently recovered from his recent slight attack of pneumonia to be out of doors.

A man out in New York State, according to the Buffalo Hammer, was married behind prison bars, but must go to jail and serve a two years' sentence. The Hammer avers that some people do not know when they are well off.

We have almost forgotten to comment on how handsome "Georgetown Kel" looked at the last indoor meet here. No, body ever would have suspected that he came from Georgetown.

Harry Pulliam has been looking for a nice, quiet little place to rest. Why didn't somebody tip him off to Hyattsville?

"Dabbed if I feel like prazdigiz wid the baseball teab agaid thiz abberdood."

VIRGINIA MEETS YALE.

Track Games Scheduled for Charlottesville, April 10.

Special to The Washington Herald.

University of Virginia, March 16.—Virginia will meet Yale here on April 10 in a dual track meet.

Yale will bring a team of eighteen men, and will make the Southerners sit up and take notice.

Rector will have as his opponents such men as Butler, who is a fast man in the sprints, and will make the Olympic star hustle.

Johnson's Wife Not White.

Chicago, March 16.—Jack Johnson's wife is not a white woman, according to the new heavy-weight champion. He says she is of negro parentage, and was born in Mississippi. She was reared in Philadelphia, where the champion met her several years ago. Her name, he says, was Addie Smith.

CALLS HIM QUITTER

Jeffries Says the Negro Never Whipped a Good Man.

DORANDO HAS EARNED $20,000

Remarkable Performance of Italian in Madison Square Garden Monday Night Is Talk of Town—All Records for Seventeen Miles Broken—New French Marathoner Arrives.

New York, March 16.—Jeffries and Johnson both talked fight to-day, though the former still insisted that he is not ready to say whether he will make a match with the big negro or not.

Jeffries declared that Johnson was a quitter and always had been one; that Johnson never beat a good man, and if he (Jeffries) had made a match with him four years ago the public would have accused the blemishmaker of picking an easy one.

Johnson, on the other hand, made a statement in Chicago that he was willing to fight Jeffries, winner take all, and that he intended to come to New York in a few days to force Jeffries into a match or make him shut up. Johnson also declared that he had given his word to James Coffroth, the California promoter, that he would accept a purse to fight Jeffries at Colma.

The colored champion is inclined to back out of his match with Langford before the National Sporting Club, of London, in May, for the reason that the purse of $5,000 is not large enough.

Sam Fitzpatrick, Johnson's former manager, who is in San Francisco, declares that Jeffries, half fit, could whip the negro.

Dorando's remarkable running in Madison Square Garden last night, when he broke Johnny Hayes' talk with terrific pace-making, was the talk of the town to-day. It was the prevailing opinion that Dorando never ran a better Marathon race in his life, and that if Johnson or Shrub had been his competitor instead of Hayes the Italian would have been victorious just the same.

After running the first seventeen miles in faster time than he ever hung up for this distance in a Marathon race, either in or outdoors, few of the sharpers at the trackside believed that Dorando could take the rest of the journey without his customary breakdown. But when the Italian ran the last half mile as fast as he did the first few laps of the big race, the wisest threw up their hands.

In discussing the race to-day it was generally conceded by the students of the long distance game that if Hayes had been able to go along with Dorando all the way to the finish, all existing records for the Marathon route would have been lowered by the wonderful Italian.

Counting in his share of the spoils on Monday, Dorando has made nearly $20,000 in cold cash since arriving here last fall. He has been racing constantly, both here and in various cities. He will probably go home early in the summer, but he says he will come back early next winter.

Henri Saint Ives, the French distance champion, is on the steamer Teutonic, which arrives tomorrow on Thursday. He is twenty years old, and has completed in five races, winning them all. He will run any one, preferably Longboat, over the Marathon distance upon any terms agreeable to the Indian or his managers.

HOWARD PRINTING LINE-UP.

Freeman and Green to Do Bulk of the Pitching.

Through error in copy furnished The Washington Herald relative to the line-up of the Howard printing office baseball team for the coming season, the names of its veteran pitchers, L. Freeman and S. BASEBALL NOTES AND COMMENT

Ban Johnson has returned to Chicago from a three weeks' trip to Florida and Cuba.

Cravath is still hitting the ball hard for the White Sox. He has been shifted from first to the outfield.

Manager Jim O'Rourke, of Bridgeport, has signed Earl Powell, a brother of Jack Powell, of the St. Louis Browns. Powell was released by Pittsburgh.

It looks as if either the Boston National management or George Tebeau fell asleep in not tendering a contract to Patsy Flaherty. Registered letters save a heap of trouble when it comes to a question of receipt of contracts.

Lawrence has purchased the release of John Hess from the Nashville team, of the Southern League. Hess pitched for Springfield last season, and was drafted by Nashville, but was afraid of the Southern climate and refused to sign. Hence the deal with Lawrence.

Capt. Mike Doolin, of the Phillies, has this to say of Dave Shean's work in Wednesday's game at Southern Pines: "Shean did real fine work during the game. His playing was marked by some fast catches and good stops. He got away with six catches and lined the ball out for a three-bagger and a single."

The Pittsburgh Athletic Company, owner of the Pittsburgh baseball club, has just secured a life insurance policy for $100,000 on the life of President Barney Dreyfuss. The club is spending $1,000,000 on a new baseball park, and the directors decided that the death of Mr. Dreyfuss would entail on them a financial loss equal to the amount for which he has been insured.

Fielder A. Jones doesn't rate himself as a "hold out." He is willing to manage the Chicago Americans again if he can get $20,000 for the season and a choice slice of the Cub's stock.

"Toots" Hoffman, a brother of the great utility player, Arthur Hoffman, of the Chicago Nationals, has joined the Cubs at Shreveport, La. Hoffman is a third baseman.

Bits of District Sporting Gossip

Reports from the Georgetown University Hospital late last night indicate a slight change for the better in the condition of Joe Courtney, captain of the Georgetown University baseball team.

The fact that he recognized his relatives, who arrived in the city last night and went directly to his bedside, is substantial proof that he has rallied since yesterday.

Members of the Georgetown team will meet shortly for the purpose of selecting a temporary successor to Capt. Courtney.

The following item clipped from the Baltimore Star will be of interest to followers of the high school track athletics of this city: "To the mile run, Zeh, of the Central High School, starting from the 40-yard line, jumped into the lead on the second lap and could not be headed. His time, 4:38.5, speaks for itself
